If the member does not fulfill this obligation to provide information concomitantly with the submission of their membership application, or by two months before the beginning of the next business year at the latest, the executive board reserves the right to estimate this information.

(3) The executive board shall be entitled to waive the membership contribution in whole or in part if the efforts required in collecting that contribution are disproportionate with regard to the amount of money involved.

(2) If the contribution for the ongoing year is decided upon during the course of a year, the fees are due within one month of their being requested. If the annual contribution is fixed for one or more subsequent calendar years, it is to be paid in full within ten bank working days (to the registered office of the association) of the beginning of the business year in question, in accordance with the articles of association (§ 6 Para. 2).

(3) Whenever possible, new members should arrange for their fees to be paid by means of direct debit. In individual cases other payment methods can be discussed if there are substantial grounds for doing so.

(4) Following the withdrawal from the association - regardless of the reason - members’ payment obligations remain unaffected. Fees and contributions already paid will, in accordance with the articles of association (§ 6 Para. 4), not be refunded.

(5) The annual membership fee is, in accordance with the articles of association (§ 6 Para. 2), payable as a lump sum.

§ 5
