Biography

Arne Richters currently heads, Allego’s Public Affairs and Communication department. As a seasoned professional he has worked in the EU transport and energy field for 2 decades, in various roles amongst others in the European Parliament, Toyota Motor Europe, Transport and Environment, Interel EU Public Affairs firm, ACEA and ChargePoint. Next to his current role he also chairs the Platform for Electric Mobility in Brussels, sits on the Board of Avere Europe on behalf of the Netherlands and is co-founder and member of the management committee of ChargeUp Europe.

Arne is a passionate advocate for sustainable mobility and relishes feeding into policy that helps reduce both carbon and particulate emissions. When not at his desk Arne enjoys the zero emission power of wind, getting in as much sailing in when ever he can.

Arne studied Policy and Management of International Organizations at the University of Groningen